

Editors Message

Dear Readers,

We are happy to share first issue of our department's technical magazine 'Yantra Vidya'. Our magazine will be available in digital form on institute website as well in print format that will makes magazine content easier to explore and engage with. As a technical magazine, it is going to cover many issues related to emerging technologies in Mechanical Engineering, and overall development. We aim for inspiring our readers by keeping them updated with the latest technological developments. Also, we aim for motivating our writers and content providers by giving them a platform for sharing their views. We highly appreciate authors of articles, who have allowed us to share their views and stories. We are glad to present our magazine's September 2020 Issue, with new journey for readers.
